

ClearView Healthcare Partners

Strategy Consultant Intern in the Life Sciences

ClearView is a premier strategy consulting firm based in Boston focusing on the life sciences.

ClearView Healthcare Partners provides world-class strategic decision-making support across a wide diversity of business issues, informing actionable recommendations that allow companies to achieve their business goals. We serve the life sciences industry, including firms in the biopharmaceutical, medical device, and diagnostic spaces.

ClearView represents a unique opportunity for professional experience and client impact in the life sciences.

You will encounter an entrepreneurial environment, interact with a dynamic group of coworkers, gain expertise in the life sciences, assist with client deliverable creation, and develop a broad understanding of the biopharmaceutical industry. You will be mentored by ClearView consultants and have direct contact with members of senior management. You will be exposed to a wide variety of business issues and have a diverse and rewarding experience during your internship at ClearView. Finally, you will accumulate expertise, skills, and connections that will serve as the foundation and springboard into your future career.

You will have the opportunity to develop a broad range of skills at ClearView through client project work.

You will interact with both clients and teams within ClearView to address critical strategic questions within the biopharmaceutical space. During the course of a typical project, you will engage in a number of activities, including:

- Conduct complex problem-solving through a hypothesis-based approach;
- Complete primary and secondary research to drive to critical insights;
- Create and utilize analytic tools, e.g., forecast models, to support key decision-making; and,
- Participate in client communications that serve to inform strategy and maximize value.

We are looking for motivated individuals to participate in our team.

We are seeking intern candidates that are currently pursuing undergraduate degrees in the life sciences. Although prior business or consulting experience is not necessary, all candidates should have a demonstrated interest in the biopharmaceutical industry. Candidates must be highly analytical in their approach to solving complex problems, should be proficient in both written and oral communication, and must enjoy working within a dynamic team environment.

If you are interested in an enriching professional development experience within the life sciences, we would welcome your application.

We are a successful, growing firm, seeking the most highly-qualified applicants, with ongoing recruitment for open positions.
